CONFEDERATE VETERANS.

The regular monthly meeting of R. Lee Camp, Confederate Veterans, was held at their hall last night with a large attendance of members. Commander W A. Smoot presided. The executive committee through its chairman made their annual report. The reports of the adjutant and treasurer were also made, showing the camp in a prosperous condition. The annual report of the Woman's Auxilliary to the camp was read. It proved to be an admirable night, one and showed the great amount re DIS work accomplished by that organization during the year just closed. The thanks of the camp were tendered to Miss Charlotte Oszenove Berryman for the fine collections of war-time photographs of distinguished Confederates presented by her to the camp's museum; niso to a lady friend for two volumes of Harper's Weekly Pictorial, handsomely bound, and two war-time scrap books for the camp's library.

The commander made his annual report, which was a full and emplete one, of the work done by the camp during the past year. The report showed that seven members were elected during the year and a loss of four members by

STABLE DESTROYED.

A one-story frame stable near the in tersection of Franklin and Patrick streets was discovered to be on fire between 4 and 5 o'clock, yesterday evening, and before the flames could be arrested by the fire department it was with its contents practically destroyed. The stable was owned by Mrs. William Hartbower, and was used by Mr. M. R. O'Sullivan Mrs. William Hartbower's loss is about $100. Mr. O'Sullivan's loss is about $50. Neither party carried any insurance. Shortly after the fire had been subdued a woman in the neighborhood They sold at 123 cents a pound. told Mr. O'Sullivan that two of her boys, s aix and the other seven years old had procured matches and set on fire some straw which was on the outside of the stable. She expressed regret at the result, at the boys bad no intention of burning the stable.

ACTS OF VANDALS

The tombstone fiend, it appears, is in evidence in Alexandria. In St. Paul's cemetery, according to the inscription on a slab, a woman is represented as having been one hundred and sixty years old at the time of her death, a practical joker baving cut a figure one place of a person who is represented by the inscription as baving lived thirteen bundred and seventy years, the figure one and three having been cut in the stone before those which originally denoted that the deceased was seventy years old. A flower thief was recently sent to jail for six months by the Police Should the desecrator of tombatones be identified he will doubtless be summarily dealt with.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT LEAGUE, In view of the fact that the school board has assigned one hour each month to the instruction in civic work in the the schools, Miss Boush, chairman of the school committee, visited the public schools during the past week and left with Col. Ficklin and Miss V. A. Grigg certificates of membership in the junior league to be distributed to all the scholars who are willing to aid the work of the league by observing the four rules prescribed for childred: 1, Not to throw 2, Not to throw fruit skins. Not to throw trash of any kind upon the street. 4. Not to injure or deface prop-Addresses on these points were made by Miss Cummings to all the teachers and scholars in order that the work might be more clearly understood by them. [Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning: Beatrice Craig and Nathan Jackson, colored children, charged with destroy-ing the property of William Coleman, colored, were turned over to their para similar offense, was dismissed white man, suspected of lunscy,

ATTRACTION THIS WEEK.

The thestre-going public is always obling for a diversion of some sort and this is afforded in a generous degree a the Opera House this week. Some peo-ple like to be thrilled and they love to laugh also. Miss Marie Girard and Mr. Olint Weston, in a parody on that old melod are atic effering. Ten Nights in a Ear Room," are good. The parts chosen by them are exceptionally well selected to insure a good balance in the drama and strong incidents of the play. It is a strange thing, people sit out in front in wender and amszement and their hearts go pit-a-pat as these brilliant stars at the Opera House make desperate love to each other, and one would thick there was something real in it. The man works a few tears in his eyes, his voice becomes low and mellow, and the lady looks at him in such an appealing, beseeching way that it probably turns your head. The show all the way through is good and the immense crowds which attend justifies this state-New vaudeville and pictures to

DISORDERLY PROCEEDINGS

A white man and two colored men A white man and two colored men caused some excitement at King and Lee streets this morning by surrounding a white man who, they claimed, owed them money for work as fishermen. They said the man was a non-resident and should be leaked and The Cartesian. and should be locked up. The four soon attracted a crowd and the police appear-ed and endeavored to presuade the accusers to go to a magistrate and institute a civil suit. They, however, insisted that the man should be arrested, and Officers Ferguson and Sampson finally took all four in custody on the charge of disorderly conduct They were later r lessed upon promising to submit the case to a magistrate.

HIGH CLASS VAUDEVILLE.

It is a fact that there are extraordipary attractions at the Surprise Theater this week-especially will it be the case tonight and tomorrow night. To start with, Eimund O'Connell and Beatrice Golden are as good as the best in their laughable sketch. George and Beatrice Wells, who are great in the Rube act and Italian impersonators, will hold away tonight, while Hansone, the world renouned magician, will startle you with his clever, artistic, amusing and refined act.

LARGE CROWDS.

A good show will naturally attract large crowds and this is the reason that the Alexandria Amusement Company's hall is always filled with people The management exhibits nothing but the most refined pictures and there is no chance of you having your sensibilities jarred in the slightest degree. It is well to note that of all the show houses in this city none presents more pleasing pictures than this house. New pictures tonight.

NEGRO BUSINESS LEAGUE.

A called meeting of the Negro Business League of this city will be held tonight at 427 south Royal street. The objot of the meeting will be for business and nothing political will be introjected into it. Magnus L. Robinson is the local president, and the other officers are representative colored people of Alexandria. The lesque now numbers and the other officers are representative colored people of Alexandria. The lesque now numbers 125. Booker T. Washington is the national president.

THE FISHING SEASON.

The arriva's of fish at Fishtown are still being delayed. As was stated, a small jag of shad and herring resched that place last Sunday. The gillers re-port mesgre results during the past few days. Shad sold in market this morning at from 30 to 40 cents for bucks and at 65 to 75 for roe. An abundance of fine black base was on the tenches.

A. L. I.

As was announced in the Gazette s preliminary inspection of the Alexandria Light Infantry, Company G, First Virginia Regiment, was made at the Armory, on south Royal street, lest night, by Maj James E. King. The men appeared in service uniforms. The annual inspection of the company will be made by Maj. Mallory, U. S. A., next Monday night.
